

HOTEL SIGNAGE

Hotel signage

Necessity and support to proper operation of each unit

A signage is an important and integral part of every hotel as it contributes both to the smoother operation of the unit and it enhances the convenience and satisfaction of the guests.

Adequate signage assists to the proper operation and organization of the premises as it offers a pleasant and better experience to the guests, enhancing the appearance of the hotel.

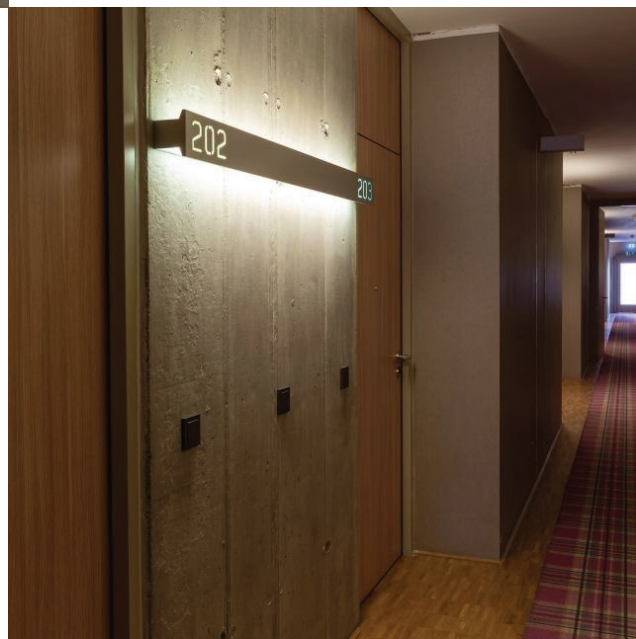

A complete signage study helps in achieving maximum functionality and improves the aesthetics of the premises, as it helps guests attain a precise idea of the hotel plans.

CTC undertakes the entire signage designing process, while working in harmony with all partners to ensure results of the highest quality.

So long there is already a design study for the hotel's signage, CTC contributes to the implementation, construction and installation of the required signage in the best possible way providing a final result of exquisite quality.

signage design study

The signage design study that our company offers is the most constituent step for the creation of a result, which will help the visitor to have a complete picture of the hotel premises, showcasing all the facilities in an organized manner, making them easy to access and locate.

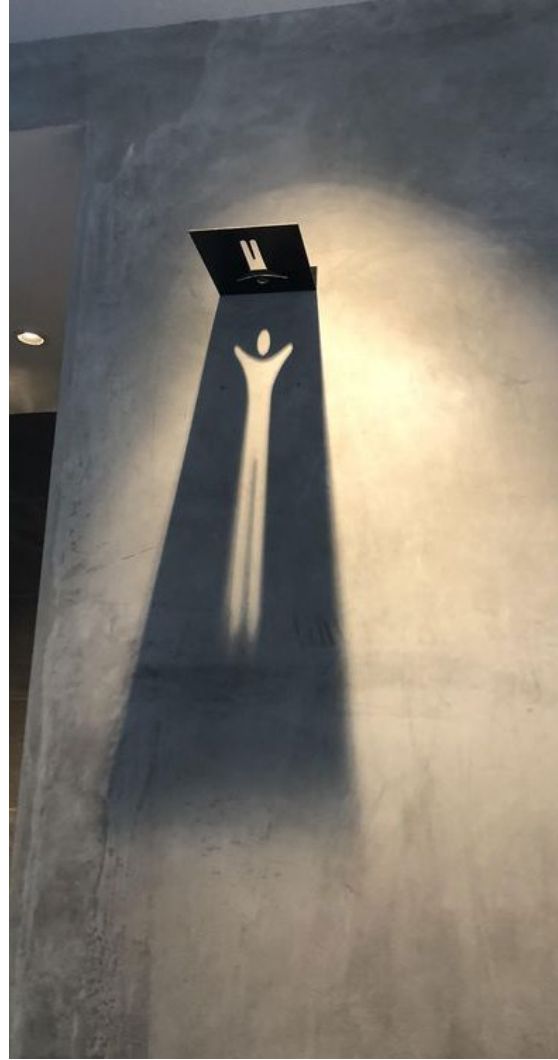

ergonomic design

Our designing crew can create a photorealistic simulation of the designs that will be selected during the signage study. The next step is the production of the material from our factory with the use of the most cutting-edge processing machines (CNC laser, router, electrostatic painting, etc.) The result is really high-end and unique signages that will decorate the interior and the exterior of the hotel.
